New Delhi, December 10, 2015

ISOLA GENERAL DESIGN AWARD

The jury is unanimous in not awarding an 'Award of Excellence' in the category of ISOLA General Design Award. Two entries are selected for Special mention.

It is encouraging that new landscape typologies are being represented in the professional works submitted. However, it is also noted that the entries lacked engagement with site or context, at times, in both presentation and design.

Furthermore, projects could have shown greater excavation to curate thinking in Landscape Architecture.

SPECIAL MENTION

Hemali Samant

Weekend house at Dumas, Surat

Concept

The Colonial style of architecture brings to mind stately, symmetrical homes with arcades anchoring the entry. Clipped boxwood hedges, topiary, and stone are the traditional elements in Colonial landscape design, that set an impressive scene in large estates. But in this residential project, the landscape design tries to create more a softer & personalized approach to give the landscape a blend of traditional as well as modern landscape design ideas.

The designs are custom landscapes that express the personality of the people living there, while still reflecting on the colonial retreat architecture of that era. The idea was to carve out the spaces within the existing green areas creating various spatial experiences.
